General Information

Short summary

A startup company that sells cold pools to consumers is looking for a pool supplier from the EU. The pools are durable adult-sized barrel and bathtub-style pools that need to withstand UV-light and outdoor temperatures since they can be used both outdoors and indoors. The volume of the basic pool is 350 litres; premium versions of the pool are bigger. Premium pools are inflatable and made from standup paddleboard (SUP-board) like material. The basic pool has inflatable and solid PVC parts.

Full description

A Finnish startup offers cold pools (from 350 litres up) to its consumer customers. The idea is to offer possibility for ice baths at home to people who enjoy cold water. The company has currently bought cold pools from China but is now looking for reliable supplier from EU region. The cold pools are made of light plastic material and they can be filled with air and moved. The basic pool is a 3.5 kg pool (350 litres, height 90 cm, diameter 100 cm) made of PVC and nylon and fits into a small space when assembled. Pro and premium pools are bigger and have the same material and technology as SUP boards. The pools are intended for use by the consumers at home, in a cottage or to take with them on trips. The pools can be installed outdoors or indoors so they need to withstand UV light and varying outdoor temperatures. The company is looking for a supplier of before mentioned cold pools from EU region.

Advantages and innovations

Technical specification or expertise sought

The company is looking for supplier that can manufacture/offer durable inflatable adult-sized barrel and bathtub-style pools from light plastic material that withstand UV-light and outdoor temperatures. Currently the product range consists of four pools with different specs. The smallest one being 350 litres in volume, 90 cm in height and has diameter of 100 cm. Most of the pools are inflatable but the basic version has also 'solid' PVC parts. For example water toy factories or SUP-board manufacturers maybe capable of manufacturing also cold pools desired by the company.
